San Diego, CA (PRWEB) August 30, 2006 -- 10stepmarketing is giving small business owners the chance to win a free marketing makeover in September. No purchase is required and entries may be submitted online at <http://www.10stepmarketingConnection.com>

One small business owner will be selected on September 18, 2006 to participate in the Fall Extreme Marketing Makeover Program which begins on September 27th and runs for six weeks. This is the last marketing makeover program 10stepmarketing will offer this year. To enter, small business owners need to submit an entry telling 10stepmarketing why their business needs a marketing makeover. Deadline for entries is Friday, September 15, 2006.

The 10stepmarketing Extreme Marketing Makeover Program was introduced in November 2005 and was selected by Entrepreneur Magazine as a "Quick Pick" in the March 2006 issue.

The marketing makeover program includes six, 90-minute small group tele-coaching sessions and recordings of each call, the complete 10stepmarketing System including a step-by-step guidebook and 12-CD set, review and critique of all current marketing materials, email support for one year, lifetime membership to the 10stepmarketing small business marketing resource center featuring links to more than 100 low-cost, small business marketing services, masterminding opportunities with other small business owners, and free teleconference follow-up calls.

The price for the Extreme Marketing Makeover Program is $499 per person, or participants may invite a friend to join them in the program for an additional $100. For more information, visit <http://www.ExtremeMarketingMakeover.com>

10stepmarketing was introduced in 2004 by 21-year marketing veteran and entrepreneur Debbie LaChusa.
